Rural Desperation: Battling...

Reports indicate that rural areas of Vidisha, Sagar, Sehore, Singrauli, Panna, Chhattarpur, Shivpuri, and Ashok Nagar are grappling with water scarcity. Singrauli Mayor Rani Agrawal openly acknowledges the severity of the issue, citing villages like Chitrangi as examples where the Nal Jal Yojana (Water Pipeline Scheme) has failed to address the problem effectively.

Residents across various districts echo similar sentiments. Buntay Yadav of Shivpuri highlights the water crisis in Tonka village, where bore wells have run dry, leaving residents without a reliable water source. Meanwhile, Amar Singh, residing in Shahpur Koria village in Sehore district, laments the proximity of his village to Sehore city does not alleviate its water scarcity, forcing villagers to embark on long journeys in search of water to fulfill their daily needs.

The situation is equally dire in Raisen district, where social worker Dr. HB Sen reports a drastic decline in water levels, leaving farmers unable to access water even after digging bore wells up to 500 feet deep. In Bina, Sagar district, former Congress MLA Sunil Jain voices concerns over the lack of proper drinking water supply, with villagers enduring hardships to procure water amidst extreme temperatures.

The water crisis gripping the rural areas paints a bleak picture, underscoring the urgent need for sustainable solutions to ensure access to clean and reliable water sources for its residents.

"Reputation is one of the most valuable assets a person can possess, as it affects both personal and professional relationships and can significantly impact an individual's standing in society," the magistrate said in his 55-page judgment.

He said Patkar's statements calling Saxena "a coward, not a patriot and alleging his involvement in hawala transactions were not only defamatory per se but also crafted to incite negative perceptions." Also, "the accusation that the complainant was mortgaging the people of Gujarat and their resources to foreign interests was a direct attack on his integrity and public service," the magistrate said.

The court said Saxena's testimony, supported by two court witnesses, showed Patkar falsely associated him with activities contrary to his public stance.

The Election Commission (EC) has deployed around 11.4 lakh polling officials at 1.14 lakh polling stations. With large parts of India sweltering under a heat wave, the EC has directed election officials and state machineries to take adequate measures to manage the adverse impact of hot weather.

Among the prominent candidates are Union ministers Dharmendra Pradhan Rao Inderjit Singh and Krishan Pal Gurjar, BJP's Maneka Gandhi, Sambit Patra, Manohar Lal Khattar and Manoj Tiwari, PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti and Deepender Singh Hooda, Raj Babbar and Kanhaiya Kumar of Congress.

The poll panel also urged voters to come out in greater numbers and vote with responsibility and pride. It particularly reminded voters in urban centres like Delhi, Gurugram and Faridabad about their "right and duty to vote and break the trend of urban apathy".

The fifth phase saw a voter turnout of 62.2 per cent in the 49 seats that went to polls on May 20.

Out of the eight seats, the BJP won five and TMC bagged three in the 2019 polls.
